

Create winning autumn art

With its falling leaves, ripening nuts, acorns and conkers, autumn is a beautiful time of the year. So, grab your pens, pencils and paints and let the season inspire some colourful autumn-themed nature art. We have some fantastic prizes up for grabs, from world-leading school supplies and stationery company Mapped Helix.

What you need

- Autumn items from nature
- Paper
- Pens, pencils and other art supplies
- Imagination

1 Get outside and experience the change of season occurring in nature. Keep a lookout for anything interesting that you can collect for inspiration.

2 Use pencils, pens or paint to create an artwork with an autumnal theme. Draw the shapes and colours you find, or you could find inventive ways to use natural objects in a painting or drawing.

WIN!

One lucky winner will receive goodies worth £100 from Mapped Helix. Four runners-up will receive £50 worth of stationery each. To enter, send a photo of your finished artwork to competitions@science-nature.co.uk by 23.59 on 11 November 2021. Make sure you put AUTUMN ART in the subject line. For all rules visit science-nature.co.uk/terms

YOUR LABS

Send us your comments, pictures and wacky ideas and see them in the magazine. Email hello@science-nature.co.uk

ISSUE 39

Milly made her own granola. It was really nice and was easy to make.

ISSUE 39

Oscar loved testing out different items in his density tower.

ISSUE 39

Gabriel found that a pipette was the best way to add less dense liquids.

GETTY IMAGES